

THE RIO GRANDE LOWER CANYONS

~ BIG BEND ON THE TEXAS / MEXICO BORDER ~

Springtime in the Desert Canyons

MARCH 25 - APRIL 2 • CUSTOM DATES LATE MARCH - EARLY APRIL

The legendary RIO GRANDE - an icon of the American Southwest - flows through some of the most beautiful and remote desert canyons on the continent. Forming the long, wild Texas/Mexico border and cutting through the intensely rugged Big Bend Country, the “Lower Canyons of the Rio Grande” is truly one of America’s premier wilderness river trips. Not fully surveyed in its entirety until very late in the nineteenth century, the Rio Grande is still regarded as one of the country’s last real frontiers.

For 28 years we have run what is known as THE LOWER CANYONS - the most isolated and spectacular section of the Rio Grande. Flowing eastward out of Big Bend National Park, the river is first characterized by massive buttes and peaks rising off the desert flats, which eventually give way, to the Rio Grande’s most commanding feature; the succession of canyons - miles of sheer, subtly hued walls, at times thousands of feet high. Wild horses and burros roam side canyons; vultures, falcons and hawks fly overhead.

Essentially a mellow trip, placid water and easy current alternate with short, somewhat technical rapids (mostly class II), virtually all of which are runnable. Whitewater technique, especially solo paddling and poling, has always been our specialty. Given the proper coaching, most people can be taught to run whitewater gracefully and skillfully within a few days' time. We run the river at optimum season — late March through April is “springtime” in the southwestern desert. Cacti are flowering and the climate is perfect; fairly hot and dry, with an abundance of sunshine, no bugs and perfect swimming. Highlights include dramatic hikes up adjoining bluffs and side canyons, bathing in natural hot springs, and Southwestern cuisine. Campsites reflect the diversity of the landscape; each one is different — seemingly more beautiful than the last. Although tents are provided, many just simply choose to sleep under the stars.

ITINERARY & LOGISTICS

DATES & LOGISTICS:

Participants should plan on arriving in WEST TEXAS (fly to Midland/Odessa Airport - MAF) anytime during the day or evening PRIOR to the published starting date; (e.g. 3/14). Please bear in mind that in the event luggage is lost or delayed, we have very little leeway on the following morning. Thus, as always, we recommend that you try to carry-on as much critical clothing and gear as allowed, and, if possible, not to take the very last flight of the day into Midland. Participants are responsible for their own transport to Terlingua, Texas - where trip actually starts.

Accommodations in Terlingua, Texas - in Casitas, close to Big Bend National Park, can be arranged the night prior.

Alternately participants with their own transportation can arrange to meet the morning of departure in either Terlingua, TX or at the headquarters for Big Bend National Park.

Prior to departure we will do a final briefing, review personal gear, distribute packs, etc., and take care of any last minute preparations.

Six nights will be spent on river; you will be arriving back in Marathon or Terlingua early in the evening on the published ending date in time for a late dinner. Shuttles of participant vehicles can be arranged. We provide meals starting with lunch upon reaching the river, and ending lunch the last day on river.

POST TRIP TRAVEL:

We would be pleased to advise on visiting various landmark locations in West Texas for post trip travel - particularly the historic towns and hotels of Marathon and Marfa. Please feel free to contact us for suggestions. Highly recommended.

Trip cancellation insurance will also cover your losses on non-refundable air and land costs on trips cancelled due to illness or logistical changes due to natural conditions, etc..

Plus all park/river corridor fees, permit and access fees, & taxes. Shuttle from Odessa, Texas to/from the river. Personal packs and tents (if you opt not to bring your own).

NOT INCLUDED: Hotel accommodations off river in Odessa, TX (see above), transfer from airport to hotel, meals off river, personal liquor & beverages, gratuities.

PACKING CONSIDERATIONS:

Essentially, one should be prepared for a desert climate. Daytime temperatures usually range from the sixties to the nineties; nights start off warm, with gradual cooling towards the early morning hours, perhaps as low as the forties on the March trips. Sun protection is a very important consideration.

Specifically recommended for clothing would be lightweight, loose, long-sleeved shirts and pants, two sets, along with bathing suits, shorts, and T-shirts (jeans make very poor river pants). A lightweight jacket/anorak, and sweater/pile is recommended for evening; the jacket/anorak should also afford some protection from possible sand and wind conditions. Typically, there is little rain; although raingear would be considered advisable. Sneakers are perfect for river use, and a slightly more substantial pair of lightweight boots or shoes would be necessary for hiking and camp. Sandals, while a comfortable campsite option, are absolutely NOT recommended as river shoes. One or two protective hats or caps is a must, as well as suntan lotions and creams of personal choice.

Sunglasses, even if you don't normally wear them, are strongly advised. Light cotton gloves are recommended for those who burn or blister easily. As regards sleeping bags, a lightweight "three season" synthetic is sufficient, with a pad/mattress, ground cloth, etc. We ask that you bring spare prescription glasses/sunglasses, and a dual supply of any necessary medications (to be kept in someone else's pack in another canoe). Participants should also have at least one knife on their person. Ideally, a large single-bladed knife on the belt or life vest for safety purposes, and a multi-bladed tool type (Swiss Army or Leatherman) for utilitarian purposes. A complete packing list will be provided on registration.

As with all our trips, we will provide you with the proper river packs, tents, and P.F.D.'S (life jackets/vests), although you may provide your own gear, if suitable. We also have waterproof containers available for cameras, binoculars, and miscellaneous small gear. (Again, please remember to send back your trip forms, which have an attached gear needs list!)

Lastly, we do serve wine (and, occasionally, Margaritas) with the evening meal; you are welcome to bring your own supply of beer, liquor, soft drinks, etc. We do carry an ice supply, and are capable of providing a limited amount of refrigerated space daily for personal use.

DRINKING WATER:

The Rio Grande itself is not potable. We bring drinking water with us, which is resupplied from the pure hot springs found periodically along the river banks. Although canteens and small water bottles are handy for hiking, and carrying, we will also provide you with personal gallon jugs of water which can also be replenished throughout the trip.

FISHING:

Basically for catfish - big ones. The Rio Grande is not exactly a flyfishing river - - any tackle is suitable, although line should be a minimum of ten pound test. Drop lines, bobbers, and bait is the popular local method. No firearms are permitted as the Rio Grande is a federally managed waterway.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

We check in historic Stillwell's Crossing, near the entrance to Big Bend National Park (Although our section of the river does not fall within the Park boundaries, the waterway itself, for which we are licensed, is administered by the National Park Service.) The store there has a selection of books, pamphlets, and maps on the Rio Grande and surrounding Big Bend Country. If available, we especially recommend that you obtain the #3 River Guide to the Rio Grande ,published by the Big Bend Natural History Association. Another excellent general source is the Big Bend Handbook put out by the National Park Service.

THE MEXICAN BORDER:

Technically, we do not cross it; no passports are necessary ;however a passport, or at least some form of photo identification would be advisable.
